Departmental Focus:

The Department of Anaesthesiology and Resuscitation covers the full scope of this medical field. The anaesthesiological part provides care in all available medical branches, for both adult and paediatric patients of all age categories. The bed ward of the department provides resuscitation care for all critical conditions. This care is provided in two resuscitation units for adults, and in one intensive care unit for children. The department actively participates in lung transplantations in co-operation with the 3rd Department of Surgery of Charles University in Prague.
